

The Idaho Farm Bureau is pleased to announce that we have established a partnership with the Federation of Employers and Workers of America “FEWA”, a nonprofit trade association that helps farmers utilize the Federal Governments program to LEGALLY employ non-domestic, seasonal labor.

Whether you're a veteran, or a newcomer to the guest worker programs (H-2A/H-2B), the H-2 process is ever changing, and can be difficult or overwhelming to keep up with. FEWA understands that your seasonal business keeps you busy, FEWA is here to make the process as smooth as possible for you.

By becoming a member of FEWA they will guide you through the process of the guest worker programs, so that your business can continue to succeed. By joining FEWA, you've become a part of a National organization that is dedicated to improving business conditions, advocating for the guest worker programs, and assisting with labor retention and management.

FEWA Membership benefits include:

- A 15% discount on you inaugural FEWA membership for all Idaho Farm Bureau Members
- Employ LEGAL temporary labor through the H-2A and H-2B work visa programs
- A dedicated staff that will personally guide YOU and YOUR workers through the entire process
- SAVE money by limiting your risk with Legal Counsel
- In house, legal experts available to members at no additional cost
- Stay Compliant with Government Regulations
- Keep you up to date with Government changes
- Lobbying efforts in Washington, D.C.

DO NOT DELAY contact FEWA for a NO COST consultation, and learn how FEWA membership can benefit your business.

Contact Arnulfo Hinojosa at 877-422-FEWA (3392) ext. 101 today to schedule your no cost consultation about how to take advantage of this important program for Idaho farmers.